LEARNING OUTCOMES

- Understand the vascular anatomy and physiology of the lower limb and how these influence wound development and healing
- Differentiate between arterial, venous and mixed aetiology wounds based on clinical presentation and diagnostic findings
- Interpret key vascular assessment tools (e.g., ABI, Doppler ultrasound) to guide appropriate wound management strategies
- Identify evidence-based management approaches for vascular-related lower limb wounds, including medical, surgical and compression therapies
- Recognise when to refer for specialist vascular intervention to optimise patient outcomes and prevent complications such as limb loss
